Anne Watt, co-founder Primary Source

Wednesday September 9th ~ 7 to 9 pm

First Church of Christ, Congregational
25 Great Road, Bedford MA

Anne Watt co-founded Primary Source in 1989. From a single workshop for teachers, Primary Source has grown into an organization that provides multicultural and global educational training workshops for teachers in Massachusetts as well as providing study abroad tours. Prior to establishing Primary Source, Anne was an elementary and middle school teacher in New York, California, and Vermont. She led a federally-funded Teacher Center, worked in race relations for the Anti-Defamation League, founded an inter-racial preschool for her children, and taught graduate courses at San Bernadino State College.

Returning to Massachusetts, she put her energies into developing Primary Source's academically grounded graduate program for K-12 teacher in global and multicultural studies.

Anne received her undergraduate degree in anthropology from Radcliffe College, master's degree from Bank Street College of Education, and EdD from UMass-Amherst.

PARKING: There is handicapped parking accessed off the Great Road but regular parking is in the municipal lot behind the church (enter as if going to the Bedford Library but turn left and into the parking lot).
