

Friends of the Bedford Library Fall Book Sale

It's September, summer is coming to an end, and it's time for the Friends of the Bedford Library fall book sale, which will be held in the library. This year's sale includes beautiful art books, cookbooks, vintage, and 19th century collectable books. The children's section is filled with picture books, kids' chapter books, early readers, and movie DVDs. A tremendous variety of adult fiction and non-fiction books will be offered, along with CDs, audio books, and movie DVDs. With thousands of items to choose from, there is something for everyone.

Sale Hours

- Friday, September 21, 1–5 PM
- Bedford Day, Saturday, September 22, 10 AM–4 PM
- Sunday, September 23, 1–4 PM

BEDFORD FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY, 7 MUDGE WAY - 781-275-9440

A Members Only sale will be held Thursday evening. Not yet a Friend of the Bedford Library? Become one!

Be sure to stop by the Friends of Bedford Library booth on Bedford Day to meet a local children's author and become a member of the Friends. New and renewing members can receive a $2.00 discount that may be redeemed at the book sale in the library.

Used book sales by the Friends of the Bedford Library are essential to supporting many programs, acquisitions and events at the library. These include:

- Museum passes
- iPads in the Children's room
- Thursday night movie series and the media equipment that makes it possible

- Amazing Sunday winter lecture series with Professor Dan Breen
- Meeting room and teen room furniture
- Public flatbed scanner
- The wide variety of programs for children, teens, and adults that are offered free of charge at the library
- The Library of Things, including a telescope and GoPro cameras that are available to borrow

These are just a few of the things funded by the book sale proceeds and Friends membership.

Become a Friend!

If you love our library – please join us. Come browse and buy a book. Or donate the old books you have at home for the next sale. Even better, join the Friends and you can help in two ways:

- Through your membership dues you support all of the continued programs and acquisitions that make our library special and welcoming to our whole community.
- Become a Friend Volunteer! You can donate your time by volunteering to help sort books or work at our book sales.

If you would like to become a member please ask any book sale volunteer for more information and they will be happy to help you become a “Friend” of the library. Or click friendsofthebedfordlibrary.wildapricot.org/ to visit our membership site.
