

Dot Bergin

A long-time Bedford resident, Dot Bergin was intrigued by the idea of The Bedford Citizen from its very beginning and she was pleased to serve on the original Board of Directors. When she retired from the board, Dot was voted Director Emerita and continues to be deeply involved in The Citizen's day-to-day operations.

Aside from writing an occasional article (housing, and the Bedford Free Public Library are her 'beat,') Dot serves at The Citizen's Senior Copy Editor, and shamelessly “promotes” The Citizen at every opportunity, enlisting support among her far-flung family members, all of whom are dedicated readers.
